Subject:	Meso Stuff

I'm looking at all of the meso drugs and I'm making a decision on what we are going to do with these in the future….lot size, pricing , etc….. The entire market has died and it will not be worth the time to make these in lots and just throw it away.

A lot of retinoic acid inj is coming your way with labels and the remainder of the old lot. Just re-label the old stuff and send it back out later. It's not worth the time to make a new lot.

If you have any questions, give me a holler.
